FALCONS STUMBLE AT FINAL HURDLE

. . . but they are still the champs!

● Morwell Falcons with the State League Championship Cup, presented to them by State League Chairman Lew Stafrace, before Sunday's game.

MORWELL Falcons' glorious 1989 season ended in bitter disappointment on Sunday as they reeled to defeat in the second leg of the NSL play-off against Adelaide Hellas.

Falcons had returned from their gruelling trip to Adelaide midweek a goal down but extremely hopeful of turning the tables on their own ground.

But their cause was rendered hopeless a mere five minutes from the start when Adelaide captain, 32year-old Alby Kidd, craftily steered a free-kick past the Falcons defensive wall to put the visitors two-up.

That meant Morwell had to score three goals to win the tie and the task proved well beyond it.

Although Billy Wright equalised four minutes into the second half, the euphoria was short-lived, as livewire striker Lemmy Vatsilas popped up unmarked in front of 'keeper Dave Reynolds and almost nonchalantly put Adelaide in front again.

Morwell, committed to all-out attack, was further punished for slackness at the back as Ray Blair skipped past two defenders down the right wing before chipping over Reynolds' head.

by LES SHORROCK

That goal put Adelaide 4-1 in front overall and put the penalty that Jeff Doyle converted four minutes later into the realm of irrelevance.

By then Adelaide was almost swaggering in its superiority, demonstrated best by a cheeky back-heel from George Konstandopoulos that left Brenton Hiern in the clear to waltz round Roy Walsh and Reynolds and plant the ball into an empty net.

And as if to rub salt into the wound, Newcastle referee Rob Davies who had an erratic afternoon, sent off Falcons' captain Jim McBride for a late tackle on man of the match Alby Kidd.

There was no disputing Adelaide Hellas' superiority and right to return to the NSL after being relegated in 1986.

Both clubs are to be congratulated for surmounting the problems posed by the ridiculous conditions of a play-off that had to be concluded in a mere five days.

Only people who have never played the game for real, like the NSL

JUVENTUS PRESIDENT CRIES "FOUL"

PREDICTABLY, I received a 'phone call from Brunswick Juventus president Domenic Tenuta last Thursday complaining that I had criticised his club unfairly over its strenuous efforts to regain the State league championship from the rightful winners, Morwell Falcons.

He was very indignant that I had accused his committee of poor sportsmanship and his attitude seemed to be that he had acted in the best interests of his club.

He justified his club's actions on two grounds.

1. That Fawkner had gained an unfair advantage and Juventus deserved the other point it was awarded; the rationale being that Juve would have won if Raynes and O'Dell hadn't played, the answer to which we will never know, of course.
2. Juventus took the action it did to expose the system and thus benefit the game.

From a pragmatic point of view you could argue that there is something to be said for the first defence; Juventus won that case and so the end justified the means.

But the second defence is, to put it in the politest of terms, sheer hypocrisy.

Nobody in his right mind could ever believe that if Juventus had finished anywhere else but second it would have bothered to go to the trouble and expense that it did.

Anybody who believes that second defence probably still believes that the earth is flat and that airline pilots are underpaid.

Tenuta even claimed that his actions had been supported by a lot of people, including some "high-ups in the NSL".

I don't know who those people might be, all I do know is that not one single Juventus supporter has bothered to ring me to complain, but I did receive a call from one supporter who told me he was so disillusioned that he was going to switch to Springvale City in future.

I went to the State League Cup match between Juventus and St Albans expecting to be beseiged by indignant Juve fans, but despite the fact that I am not inconspicuous by any means (and I walked right round the ground), not one fan approached me.

So much for Mr Tenuta's claim that the club's supporters were right behind his committee.

All I hear from Juventus supporters is criticism of an administration that let the championship slip through its fingers and then tried to rectify the situation by going legal.

They complain bitterly about the way that coach Manfred Schaefer was allowed to remain in charge for five weeks after he had signed a contract with APIA for next season.

They also mutter about disaffection amongst the players caused by strange team selections and hint darkly about players being picked to satisfy the committee.

My view, for what it is worth, is that sometimes club administrators lose touch with the common herd and underestimate the fair-mindedness of their fans.

There is another State League club in the VSF that wriggled out of being relegated a few years ago by threatening the VSF with legal action.

The Board of Management at that time set a bad precedent by capitulating; it took the pragmatic way out and enlarged the State League from 12 to 14 clubs.

The club concerned felt very pleased with itself because it had saved its skin, but to this day people still remember it and the skeleton still rattles in that club's cupboard.

And that's how it is with Juventus now; it has acquired a reputation that will take a long time to live down.

When Dominic Tenuta was grumbling to me about my criticism he said there were two sides to every story and I agree.

So I offered him equal space to put his case and reply.

So far (and this is Tuesday) we have had no response, but we are still hoping and we have reserved space below for him.

CHAIRMAN SAM, WHERE WERE YOU?

Like lots and lots of other Melbourne people we trekked to Morwell last Sunday to watch the NSL play-off.

The club had its biggest crowd ever, despite the forbidding weather, last Sunday to watch the NSL play-off.

What was a surprise was the broad spectrum of people who went.

I recognised players and supporters of at least a dozen other clubs there, and of course there was a contingent of top brass too.

From the VSF there were several Board members besides President John Dimtsis and State League Chairman Lew Stafrace who presented the championship trophy to Falcons before the game.

In fact it is almost safe to say that everybody who is anybody was there . . . but hang on a minute . . . I didn't see Chairman Sam, or for that matter, that other prominent spokesman on NSL affairs, Mr Tony Kovac. Where is my old mate Chairman Sam, I asked myself.

In my own naive way I had been sure before the game that he would have been there to welcome the winners to the NSL with a few ill-chosen words in his customary manner, but I was wrong, to coin a phrase . . . he was conspicuous by his absence.

Not that anybody missed him of course, we all enjoyed ourselves too much (apart from being a little dismayed at the result), because the Morwell people worked ceaselessly at looking after us and their hospitality was boundless.

Morwell Falcons has one of the best clubrooms in the country (what other club has a reception room that can seat 600?) and it is still improving them.

If, or should I say when it gains admittance to the NSL, I'm sure it won't be a poor relation like some clubs which hover perpetually near the brink of bankruptcy.

The club took its defeat gracefully too, the attitude that prevailed seemed to be one of accepting that the better team had won and good luck to West Adelaide Hellas.

One thing you can be sure of; Falcons won't be scouring the records to see if there are any grounds for a protest.

Thanks everyone at Morwell for a very enjoyable weekend, Snippets had a great time . . . Chairman Sam, you don't know what you missed!

PAUL TRIMBOLI'S DILEMMA

One young man facing a big decision in the near future is Socceroo and South Melbourne striker Paul Trimboli.

Trimboli, voted this year's NSL Under 21 player of the year is one of the most sought-after players in the world and never a week passes without at least one 'phone call from an overseas agent or club begging him to come over for a trial.

The latest suitor is famous Glasgow Rangers manager, Graeme Sounness. (Yes, Scott, I know the club is now known as Rangers, but I didn't want anybody to think I was referring to Hamlyn Rangers, or even Berwick Rangers.)

Sounness, having recovered from the Mo Johnston affair now wants young Paul over there in the worst possible way.

However, Paul is a level-headed lad who is looking to the future and he says he wants to make sure before he goes anywhere that he won't be jeopardising that future.

He is studying for a degree in Business Administration at Chisholm in Caulfield and says before he makes up his mind to go to Rangers he has to be sure the move won't set him back a year at college.

However I believe Rangers will overcome that objection by offering him entry to a similar course at Glasgow University, or Strathclyde.

"Hello, hello, is that the Trimboli house? "Yes".

"This is Chris Nicholl of Southampton . . . that's right, Southampton in the English First Division, would you like to come over" . . . here we go again, all the best Paul.

CROYDON'S PLIGHT NOT SO BAD

I caused some alarm, it seems when I wrote about Croydon's ground problems last week.

Club president Michael Antolos tells me that the situation isn't too bad.

Croydon Council will be building an amenities block at the new ground (behind the Dorset Gardens Hotel) and the club will have dressing rooms and showers and toilets plus a refreshment kiosk for the public.

But what the Council won't be building is a clubroom, it looks at the moment as though spectators will be taking their after-match refreshment at the Dorset Gardens Hotel.

PALATSIDES FOR ADELAIDE?

Juventus' failure to gain admission to the NSL for next year has been something of a blow for Joey Palatsides and Mehmet Durakovic.

Palatsides and Durakovic, you will remember went from Juventus to Melbourne JUST on loan after Juve was relegated last year.

But despite their sterling efforts at Schintler Reserve, JUST too was relegated and since then both have had their fingers crossed that they would be able to return to the NSL via Juve.

Now they are off to train with Adelaide City.

Adelaide City coach Zoran Matic is interested and says jestingly "they shouldn't cost too much either, after all, they've been relegated twice."

OAKLEIGH IS PLAYING WHERE?

Victorian Chairman Joe Docherty says he is going to investigate the goings-on at the Oakleigh v Knox City postponed game played last Saturday.

I set out myself to cover the game, but there was no activity at Caloola Reserve, so I went on to another game.

Apparently I missed Oakleigh by a matter of a couple of paddocks. And I wasn't the only one.

I understand that Knox managed to field only eight players in its reserve match and had to top up the senior team with a couple of reserve players because two of the seniors couldn't find the venue either.

Then on top of it all, a Knox player was knocked unconscious and had to lie on the ground because the home club didn't have a stretcher.

There was no telephone in the vicinity either, so Knox City coach Terry Hennessy called for an ambulance using his car phone!

This was not a picnic kick-about, it was a supposedly organised game between two clubs in the VSF's second-most senior competition!

No wonder Joe Dockerty, as League Chairman, is concerned.

A few weeks ago, Oakleigh used Middle Park for ahome match and a referee's inspector at the game found himself wondering how it was that the visiting goalkeeper, who was no giant was able to put his hand on the cross-bar of one goal without standing on tiptoe.

So during the following week, Superman, aka Michael Gaut went along with his measuring tape and guess what . . . the cross-bar was a good ten inches too low!

Explanation . . . the posts had been removed for a rugby match and wrongly replaced.

No, there was no protest lodged.

ST ALBANS TO LOSE KUPRESAK

It seems that the State League Cup-final next Wednesday will be our last chance to see Velimir Kupresak of St Albans, most good judges' idea of the best player in the State League, in action.

Kupresak will be going to Sydney Croatia, the two clubs having finally agreed on a transfer fee of $12,000.

Since there is every chance that Kupresak will win the Bill Fleming Medal on Friday night, it seems that St Albans is on the way to establishing

DENNIS THE MENACE BESTS BELIC

As regular readers of this column know, I'm always on the look out for any amusing anecdotes from local games to bring you, so I thought you might like this one.

It seems that at last Thursday's State League Cup game between St Albans (3) Juve (0) at Ross Reserve, Springvale, St Albans' second goal was somewhat bizarre (naturally, big Dennis Morovic scored it and that's good because he's a great lad), prompting one wag to scream out, "you'd better get a protest in about that Juve, that's not fair," hee, hee.

What happened?

Well, Juve's Vlatko Belic was in possession on the edge of his own box when Dennis, in response to "Supremo" Culina's barked instructions wandered over to "shut him down".

This prompted "Bello" to try to smash the ball upfield but, unfortunately for him, he only succeeded in locating Dennis' midriff and the ball looped over the forlorn figure of the stranded Peter Laumets (yes, Peter seems to be back in favour) and nestled in the Juve net. Mamma mia!!

To add insult to injury, Branko Culina, with a straight face, was proclaiming to everyone within earshot, "we've rehearsed that one", but nobody was believing him.

Just as a matter of interest, who was the State League club president spotted climbing the fence to get in?

ROBERTO BAGS ANOTHER

While I'm on the subject of Italian soccer, have you been watching it on SBS on Sunday mornings, kick off 10.30? If not, why not?

Only two weeks ago, I saw Fiorentina's Roberto Baggio score one of the all-time great goals v Napoli, when he received the ball midway in his own half and sped upfield beating four players before disdainfully waltzing past the keeper to score.

● Donny (not me ref.) Macleod.

A week is a long time in soccer though and last Sunday, after scoring two goals for Italy midweek, Baggio broke clear on the A.C. Milan keeper but failed to round him, and the game finished 1-1.

Incidentally, he was injured later and had to be helped off.

It just shows you that even the great players miss sometimes.

Am I Wright, Billy?

JASON FRENCH, OR GRAHAME DUNSTALL?

Briefly from the VFL Grand Final:

● Scotland and West Ham's Ray Stewart didn't do too well in the big-money big-kick competition did he?

He finished last and didn't hit the target once in four tries.

We'll need to get him down to Polonia.

● Doesn't Hawthorn's Jason Dunstall look like Grahame French the "Mooroolbark Maestro" — not quite as fast though, is he?

● Do the Rules allow you to deck a player thirty seconds after he's passed the ball?

NELSON'S COLUMN

THAT'S NOT LIKE DONNY

Also on Grand Final day, Western Suburbs (3) defeated Albion (2) at Ralph Reserve in an important Division One (that's this year's Division One) game and it was quite a game according to my Editor who was at hand.

Albion were 2-0 up after ten minutes and cruising until the twenty-five minute mark.

That's when referee Chris Bambridge offered Donny MacLeod the chance of an early shower for his (ahem) tackle on Lou Theodosopolous who had given Donny a bit of lip.

(That's not like Lou, I thought.)

Anyway, off Donny went and Albion went down to (1) a neat own goal (2) a deflected shot and (3) a looping header from outside the box by big David Beattie.

Ah, soccer.

I have just heard good news for those players who were unable to get decent boots this season.

Adidas are importing the "World Champion" screw-in model again next year, so you'd better save up your money.

Talking about boots — cheeky little rascal Garry McPhee of Box Hill noted that I was wearing a pair of Nike "Air-Strike" when we played them a while ago and asked mehow things were going up there in the sky.

What a joker eh?

Actually, apart from "World Champion" they're the best boots I've ever worn and I can recommend them to you whole heartedly.

Lastly this week, I enjoyed a chat with my good friend,

Miron, who is the proprietor of the Solo Garage near the corners of Elgar and Whitehorse Roads, Box Hill, was in fine spirits as always and, remarkably, bears no resentment towards Heidelberg who recently sacked him, re-appointed him, then sacked him again before appointing Len McKendry as coach.

The mind boggles doesn't it?

I did notice Miron's jacket hanging up though, and those stab wounds in the back will take some repairing.

Executive, could expect players to give of their best in these circumstances.

Morwell Falcons had to endure a gruelling twelve hour bus hourney overnight to Adelaide after learning only minutes before they started out from Melbourne that their journey was really necessary.

The game in Adelaide was played on a hard pitch under near-summer conditions. Sunday's game was played under vastly different conditions after heavy overnight rain had turned the Morwell pitch into a pudding.

Adelaide Hellas demonstrated their professionalism and experience by travelling to Melbourne on Friday and had thus had the benefit of two nights' rest.

Then their players adapted themselves admirably to what was practically a winter's day in the Valley and deservedly took home the spoils. But it might all be for the best in the long run.

For all the brave words leading up to Morwell's challenge, Sunday demonstrated without doubt that Falcons would have needed considerable reinforcement if they were not to become an embarrassment in top company.

And whilst it is a big disappointment that Melbourne is now reduced to a mere four clubs in the NSL, it must be a good thing that a city the size of Adelaide has two NSL clubs again.

James Hardie National Indoor Soccer League

Sydney White Eagles became the new leaders of the James Hardie National Indoor Soccer League when they hammered luckless Sydney Strikers 14-4 before a capacity crowd at Mt Druitt on Saturday evening.

Even without the services of injured star Siska Filipovic, Eagles were too strong for bottom of the table Strikers.

Leading scorer Milan Blagojevic scored five of the Eagles goals to take this season's tally to 41.

Inter Monaro kept their top four hopes alive with a 6-1 win in Canberra over the young AMIGA Commodores.

Monaro's win was highlighted by a superb goalkeeping display from goalkeeper Tony Musumeci and three goals from outdoor star Baz Giampaolo.

Defending champions, the Melbourne Buffalos, moved into second spot with a hard fought 4-2 victory over Latrobe Valley while in Brisbane triple national champions, the NIB Tornadoes proved they are anything but a spent force with a convincing 8-1 result against Brisbane Bayside.

In the Buffalo Sports Womens NISL NIB Tornadoes moved to the top of the table with a 21-0 thrashing of Brisbane.

Leading scorer Kim Lembryk scored 10 of those goals and Cindy Heydon 5.

MELBOURNE BUFFALOS v LATROBE VALLEY FALCONS

Falcons Mauled by Buffalos

In a game that was billed as a real grudge match the mighty Melbourne Buffaloes travelled to Morwell to take on the Latrobe Valley Falcons in a game where winning was extremely vital for both teams.

The Buffaloes needing to win to retain third position just two points from the leaders and the Falcons chasing a victory to remain within striking distance of the top four.

As well as this the Falcons who won the national club championships earlier this year were keen to retain their title as Victoria's top team and it all added up to being a tough torrid affair.

The Falcons lined up without their leading goalscorer Anthony Gassar, out through suspension, and the Buffaloes were without Carvalho, perhaps the most skilled player in the league, as well as tough defender Steve Hackett who were both suffering from minor injuries.

The game commenced with a stinging attack from the Falcons however an effor in defence allowed the Buffaloes to charge forward and Metaxsas hit the back of the net with a skilful goal after only one minute of play.

From then on both defences were well on top, however the Buffaloes had a few chances to score but some magnificent goalkeeping by the workmanlike Gibson for Falcons kept them in the game and a spectacular goal from Rodney White with only four seconds to go before interval brought the local fans to their feet, evened the scores and gave both coaches something to think about during the break.

After the interval both teams continued to play tough defensive soccer and Gibson kept making miraculous saves for the Falcons until at the 12 minute mark Metaxsas got free and scored another for the Buffaloes.

The Falcons immediately started to

Ardeer has done it! In a hard-hitting and highly entertaining match, Ardeer outpointed St Albans Dynamo 3-0 to become the Mansfield Bunney League Cup holder for 1989. In the process, it became one of only a handful of clubs to make the Cup Final in their first year, let alone to win it. It was also the first time ever that two 3rd Division Clubs had fought out the final.

For anyone who appreciates good soccer, the Mansfield Bunney League Cup programme was an outstanding success. Spread over nearly six hours of virtually non-stop football, the three finals produced a contrast in styles, a feast of goals, an ocean of entertainment and one of the braves fights ever put up by a rank underdog.

The first match was the Invitation (or Reserves) Cup Final between Elwood United and Middle Park.

In a season of total dominance of the reserves scene, the Elwood leviathan had ploughed almost contemptuously through a succession of pretenders. Today it was almost its nemesis.

Middle Park, whose form in earlier rounds had been patchy to say the least, was given no chance. Had Ladbrokes laid odds, the shortest would have been 500-1, especially after the dismal display it put up only a week earlier in its semi-final.

But the Parkers had obviously done their home-work and were just as obviously determined to win some respect for their Club. They did just that — and very nearly pulled off the impossible.

Elwood had grown used to playing in oceans of space and stringing together a succession of pinpoint passes. Today it was allowed absolutely no space at all, and its passes would have been hard-pressed to hit the side of a barn.

Every time an Elwood player won the ball, he was immediately closed down. Virtually every time he tried to lay the ball off, it was under such tremendous pressure that accuracy became impossible.

The Parkers harried, hounded and chased to such an effect that it was not until the last second of extra time that the issue was put beyond doubt.

Elwood opened the scoring after 16 minutes following a sustained attack on the Middle Park goal.

With the ball bobbling about on the line, Joe Clayton hacked desperately for safety, but the ball struck the upright and rebounded into danger. It was cleared desperately a second time but ran away for a corner. From the corner kick, Imre Princes rose majestically to head wide of a desperately lunging Sorokowski.

While both sides occasionally looked threatening there was no change to the score until the 40th minute when the Parkers broke on the left and found John Renehan in space. As he bore down on goal, Mate Szabolo came too soon and was stranded. Renehan had no trouble in rounding him and knocking in the equaliser.

Against all odds, the score was 1-1, and there it stayed for the next 65 minutes.

Meanwhile, Elwood suffered a crushing blow when their human dynamo, Princzes, unmercifully up-ended the Parkers' Keith Charlesworth, and was invited to take an early shower.

Only two minutes of extra time were left when Elwood sewed it up. Stjapan Jurina was allowed a yard too much space and took full advantage. There was no way that Elwood was going to concede now.

It was a great win for Elwood United. The mighty Magyars had taken out the Reserves championship by a mile and had now made it the double. But there was absolutely no reason for Middle Park to feel disgraced. It had put up a magnificent fight, which was thoroughly appreciated by all.

St Dynamo came to the League Cup Final with a fierce determination to win. The Dynamose also out for revenge on Ardeer, which had earlier dumped them out of the 3 West championship race. In the event, Ardeer simply ran the legs off them.

In a match moving at blinding speed, Ardeer swept into attack from the opening whistle and soon had the Dynamos' goal under almost constant seige. The St Albans defence was mangificent, and Franjo Franjic in goal was in brilliant form. He had to be. But even he could not do more than postpone the inevitable.

Nelson to Wrobel to Spiteri to D'Antonio is the precis of a sparkling 17th minute move which brought Ardeer its opening goal. By the time the ball had reached Spiteri, the Dynamos' defence had been drawn completely out of position. The lay-off to D'Antonio was as full of class as you would see in a month of Sundays. Franjic was hopelessly exposed as D'Antonio blasted the ball past him.

St Albans launched into counterattck and soon forced a desperate defensive scramble from Ardeer. Grgas, gathering the loose ball, brought the best from the Ardeer 'keeper with a murderous drive. But Ardeer was not to be denied. At the 25th minute a stumble by a St Albans defender gave Nelson enough room to find Peter Wisniewski in open space.

From the edge of th epenalty area Wisniewski picked his angle and pounded the ball past a despairing Franjic. The remainder of the half saw both sides in continuous attack, and both goalkeepers called on to make outstanding saves.

It was a brilliant spectacle which kept the crowd well and truly on its toes. Although Ardeer had the better of the exchange, the Dynamoes were only fractionally behind. But there was no further score, and Ardeer took its 2-0 advantage into the half-time break.

The breakneck speed of the first half was maintained well into the second period. It was all St Albans for the first fifteen minutes of this period. They had an excellent chance to score when a goalmouth scramble saw the ball run to Grgas barely a foot from the goal line and the same distance from the upright.

Off balance, he reacted instinctively, but his shot found the side netting. The miss was probably the turning point of the game as, had the Dynamos scored, the lift in spirits could well have seen them notch the equaliser. As it was, Ardeer escaped and was able to resume its attack.

It was obvious, however, that both sides were tiring. The pace had slackened off, and a number of players showed signs of cramp. If anything, Ardeer was slightly the fitter and this edge was enough.

If Ardeer's first goal had shown real class, its third was perfection. A lofted clearing kick from midfield overshot the St Albans defence, leaving its goalkeeper and Ardeer's D'Antonio an equal distance to run. Franjic came bravely well out of his area, but D'Antonio was just a little the faster. Sensing that any shot would be blocked, he swept the ball wide to Spiteri who was following up the right wing. As the ball came to Spiteri, Franjic was backpedalling desperately toward his goal. Spiteri saw his opportunity and immediately lobbed goalwards.

With a 3-0 lead, and only two minutes to play, Ardeer had put the issue beyond any semblance of doubt. To its credit, however, St Albans was back into attck as the final whistle blew.

There were several outstanding individual performances. For St Albans Dynamo, Franjic and Grgas shone out, while Ardeer Nelson, P. Wisniewski (until injured), Spiteri and D'Antonio showed a real touch of class.

In making the presentations to the winners and finalists, Mr Michael Bennett of Mansfield Bunney and Associates congratulated both teams on an outstanding display. He added that he had thoroughly enjoyed his introduction to Cup Final football and certainly intended to be back again for next year's Finals.

In previewing this match, we mentioned that both teams had the habit of playing their soccer hard but fair. This match was no exception. The spirit and the sportsmanship shown were quite excellent. The atmosphere of the game was, if anything, enhanced by the enhusiasm of the estimated 3,000 strong Ardeer support group. (This estimate is based on the amount of noise they generated. Ed.)

The Victorian Women's Soccer Association Cup Final made a welcome return to the League's Cup Day programme. This year's Final between Coburg A and Dandenong showed off the talents of most of the Victorian team which last week won the National Championships and included Australian team members Jane Oakley, Debbie Nichols, Carolyn Monk, Sarah Cooper and Janine McPhee. There was no lack of skill or excitement.

Claudia Smith broke through the Coburg defence to open Dandenong's score at the 24th minute. Her shot capped off a determined run from some 30 metres outside the Area.

While there was plenty of excitement to follow, the remainder of the first half was scoreless. In fact, the statisticians were untroubled until the 64th minute when Dandy's Judy Pettitt lobbed a back pass which took an abnormally high bounce to elude her 'keeper's fingertips. As the ball rolled peacefully into goal, Coburg rejoiced at its good fortune.

Perhaps inspired by its equaliser, Coburg now went into attck mode and was rewarded only four minutes later when Janette Melvin's all along the ground drive slipped through Theressa Jones' fingers and legs.

In case this sounds too matter of fact and a little cruel, we might add that a downpour during this period had done nothing to make the ball easy to hold.

Fiona Young restored the balance for Dandenong at the 79th minute, heading home powerfully from a delightfully weighted cross which capped off a long solo run by Australia rep, Jane Oakley.

Seemingly headed inevitably for extra time, the game took a fresh turn when Coburg's Charity James cracked in its third goal. James, the original motor-legs, had been spectacular all day as she chased everything that moved. She had come close on a number of occasions and thoroughly deserved her goal which came when a ball hoicked forward, fell between her and Dandenong's last line of defence.

Her speed was enough to make her first to the ball by a comfortable margin and, neatly side-stepping the goalkeeper, she carefully slotted the ball home.

Playing the middle game, the girls had by far the worst of the elements, having been subjected to a mixture of gales and calm, sun and overcast, pouring rain and pelting hail. But while all else was soaked, nothing dampened their enthusiasm. They turned on a highly entertaining display in a game which was a credit to both teams.

The League acknowledges with thanks the co-operation, courtesy and hospitality of the Northcote City Soccer Club, whose facilities were made available for the day.

NSL PLAY-OFF

SECOND leg NSL playoff — MORWELL FALCONS 2 — WEST ADELAIDE HELLAS 4

PLAYED at Crinigan Road Morwell 1st October 1989.

Morwell Falcons failed in its attempt to gain admission into the National Soccer League by losing 1-0 in the first leg at Hindmarsh Stadium in Adelaide last Wednesday and then a 2-4 loss at Crinigan Road last Sunday in the second leg of the playoff.

The game at Adelaide was probably the better of the two matches with the only score being an own goal from the Latrobe Valley Club after 71 minutes of play.

A midfield slip which allowed Adelaide Hellas the chance to send the ball into the right corner where a good cross from Raymond Blair was mis-kicked in defence and put Dave Reynolds in a no win situation with the ball just sneaking over his fingertips and settling into the back of the net.

Roy Walsh sank to the turf after the mistake but the goal was recorded and the Hellas fans went wild.

Hellas had a goal disallowed just before the half time whistle when Alby Kidd sent a free kick through the defensive wall to enter the net but the referee John McConnell from Sydney saw an infringement in the wall to enter the net but the Kidd sent a free kick through the defensive wall to enter the net but the referee John McConnell from Sydney saw an infringement in the wall of players and whistled as the ball was in the air.

The Hellas fans were not happy but the end result was the 1-0 in favour of the Adelaide Club.

In the return match at Crinigan Road, a big crowd was on hand to see the visitors pour on the pressure from the outset and after only three minutes, Alby Kidd had a rerun of the free kick at Adelaide, but this time there was no infringement and the ball went through the wall of players to beat Dave Reynolds an dmake the first score.

Despite some furious tackles from both teams, the score remained the same at the half time whistle, but it was Morwell who came out the more aggressive in the second half and scored just four minutes into the half when Jim Nelson had slammed the ball towards Adelaide 'keeper David Miller for the rebound to fall at the feet of Billy Wright who almost tore the back of the net out with his counter shot.

With the scores levelled, the local Morwell supporters were very vocal and gave the players a big lift, however the large contingent of Adelaide supporters tried to out-do the singing and there was a splendid atmosphere around the ground.

From then on the goals came thick and fast keeping the crowd well entertained.

At the 58th minute Raymond Blair made a great run up the right wing and crossed to Lemmy Vatsalis who calmly set himself and shot past Reynolds for a score.

The Adelaide crowd came alive and with flares and banners, gave the crowd controllers a hard time, however settled as only a few minutes later Blair collected a flicked on header from George Konstandopoulos and blitzed Falcons defence to chip the ball over the head of Reynolds who was advancing to close him down.

Six minutes later, Falcons supporters were elated when Ron Manley was pushed off the ball in front of goal by Hellas's 'keeper Miller and referee Bob Davies from Newcastle NSW had no compunction and pointed to the penalty spot.

Jeff Doyle lined up and converted the spot kick to bring up Falcons second goal.

Hellas sealed things in the 74th minute when a back heel from George Konstandopoulos landed in front of fast running Brenton, Hiern who side-stepped Reynolds and found the net for Adelaide's fourth.

Morwell was unable to get on top, and in fact with only ten minutes to go was reduced to ten men when a tackle from captain Jim McBride on Alby Kidd, Hellas's captain, was judged by the referee to be a mile too late and Falcons were depleted.

The final whistle brought a great roar from the supporters of both clubs for a well fought game.

This means that Morwell Falcons will contest the oncoming 1990 season in the VSF State Super League and will again have a chance to win the league and play-off for the National League status.

THE NEW

YAKA SPORTS adidas

CALLING ALL JUNIORS

Hi kids, I'm Phil Stubbins of Heidelberg United and I've just taken over Yaka Sports.

I'm desperate to clear out all the old stock, to make room for new season's styles — so EVERYTHING MUST GO AT COST — and we have your sizes in tracksuits, boots, shirts, shorts, everything. That INCLUDES all the famous makes — Adidas, Puma, Nike Lotto, Diadora etc.

By the way, we can find some gear for your big brother too!

some tradition of fostering medal-winners who then get transferred.

Last yea r it was Ivan Duzel who won the Fleming and then went on to Melbourne Croatia along with our goalscorer award winner, Ivan Kelic.

That was a double blow for incoming coach Branko Culina, who now finds himself contemplating a replacement for Kupresak.

DON'T MISS THE PARTY

If you haven't already booked for the Bill Fleming dinner tomorrow night (Friday), get on the blower right away and tell Jodi.

Apparently some people were labouring under the delusion that it was a sort of stag night, but that's not so, it is mixed, so bring a wife . . . someone else's, if yours won't come (well someone has to drive home).

It's going to be a great night, don't miss, ring Jodi on 429 6288.

JAMES HARDIE NATIONAL LEAGUE

apply extreme pressure and almost scored on two occasions after defensive errors from the Buffaloes, but with two minutes remaining the magical Metaxsas scored again for his third of the night but with grim determination the Falcons pressed again and for his third of the night but with grim determination the Falcons pressed again and were rewarded with a great goal from Nigel Brown, and suddenly the Falcons were only one down with a minute to go, but after an error in defence by the Falcons with 15 seconds to go, the Buffaloes charged forward and Metaxsas goaled again after receiving a nice pass from McAuliffe.

The Buffaloes had finally won 4-2, but the Falcons are to be congratulated on a great game and their perseverence will see them through in future games.

The game was controlled excellently by referee Ray McCluskey.
